Hiromi Tazaki, Co-Founder, Executive Director, Chairman & CEO of JAC Recruitment, Named to the 'Global Power 150 Women in Staffing' List

Hiromi Tazaki, Co-Founder, Executive Director, Chairman & CEO of JAC Recruitment Co., Ltd. (hereinafter "JAC"), a leading recruitment firm operating across 11 countries worldwide, has been selected for the 'Global Power 150 Women in Staffing' list by Staffing Industry Analysts ("SIA"). The Global Power 150 Women in Staffing honours senior leaders and executives whose strategic vision and decisive actions set the stage for growth at their companies and throughout the industry.

Regarding her inclusion in this prestigious list, Hiromi Tazaki commented:

"It is a great honour to be recognised as one of the leading women in the global staffing industry through my selection for the 'Global Power 150 Women in Staffing 2025'.

Talent is the source of corporate competitiveness and the most important asset for shaping the future of any organisation. JAC Group, now operating recruitment businesses in 11 countries worldwide, has supported the growth of both individuals and companies by connecting outstanding talent with enterprises, thereby contributing to the advancement of human capital management.

Moving forward, we will continue to support human capital management for organisations across the globe, striving to create a society where everyone can thrive in their own way, and contributing to our clients' sustainable growth and value creation."

SIA is a global advisor on workforce solutions, providing independent analysis and guidance to organisations, as well as conducting comprehensive research on labour markets worldwide. In SIA's recently published '2025 Largest Direct Hire Firms Globally', JAC was ranked 9th.

JAC remains committed to delivering high-quality services to clients around the world, specialising in executive, professional, and technical placements for both senior and mid-level positions.
